DISCOVER WHERE MUSIC TAKES US

I believe every concert is a conversation between composers across centuries, the musicians, and you. "Pacific" is both our name and identity—it's a gateway to adventure, wonder and joy through live orchestral music. Thank you for being part of this beautiful and transformative journey. Here's to the music, and what we'll experience together.

CONCERT 1 | A NEW ERA BEGINS

SHELLEY CONDUCTS MAHLER 2: RESURRECTION

OCTOBER 1, 2 & 3, 2026 | 8PM ▲ ▲

New beginnings. Optimism. Fresh starts. Mahler's Second Symphony, "Resurrection," is music of towering power, hushed mystery, soaring voices, and a finale that lifts heavenward. This is music that transforms both performer and listener. This is how a new era should begin, with music that asks life's biggest questions and answers with hope. Listen as the future begins.

EMANUEL AX PLAYS BEETHOVEN

JANUARY 16, 2027 | 8PM ▲

Alexander Shelley pairs bold contemporary voices with timeless classics as Pacific Symphony welcomes legendary pianist Emanuel Ax in a prelude to the Beethoven Revolution Festival with Beethoven's poetic Piano Concerto No. 4. Long admired for his depth, clarity and humanity at the keyboard, Ax brings a lifetime of insight to one of Beethoven's most intimate masterworks.

"Emanuel Ax offers Beethoven playing of rare clarity, humanity, and profound insight." — The New York Times

Shelley contrasts the shimmering sound world of Moussa's Elysium with the vibrant grandeur of Mozart's Symphony No. 31, "Paris." The program then pivots with a brilliant jolt as Unsuk Chin's Subito con forza ignites the hall with its electrifying burst of energy—setting the stage for Ax's transcendent Beethoven.
